Tobacco News.—The A. S. of E. Tobacco News, published at Winchester, has been received by THE OUTLOOK. It is a very interesting to growers of tobacco.

$100 REWARD.—The destruction of tobacco beds in certain parts of the State has caused Gov. Willson to offer a reward of $100 for the apprehension and conviction of any person wilfully destroying the tobacco bed of another.

INCREASED STOCK.—I want the people of Bath county to inspect my stock of furniture when thinking of buying this spring. I have increased my furniture business until I can now supply any kind you want at the lowest prices, cash or credit. T. S. SHROUT.

DEATH IN MISSOURI.—Mrs. Lotie Duncan died of spinal meningitis at Camden Point, Missouri, March 19. She was the wife of John A. Trumbo, Jr., and a niece of James W. Emmons, of this town. She is survived by her husband and five children.

MOONSHINE STILL DESTROYED.—Deputy United States Marshal Sam Jackson and posse captured and destroyed a nearly new moonshine whisky distillery together with about 400 gallons of beer and 40 gallons of whisky. The distillery was found under a ledge of rock in a range of cliffs very difficult of access, not far from the village of Wyatt, Elliott county.

AND BROWN AND BEN BLACK were arrested last Friday morning as operators of the still.

CATCHING NAPPING.—W. C. Terhune, of Harrodsburg, has created something of a stir last week when he called on proprietors of back fence locations, Col. Ayers and his wife, in those lines. Town and county merchants alike were trapped and required to take up licenses.

The inspector was not in enforcing the penalty.

REPORTS CORRECTED.—

From reports printed recently it would seem that the sale of the twenty-five per cent. of the pooled crops of 1906 and 1907 which was made by the Burley Society some time ago to the combination of independent buyers was not a success.

These reports are not indicated by the facts in the case. From time to time we saw accounts of large quantities thrown back on the hands of the Society for being in bad condition, and at other times we heard that certain independent buyers had repudiated their contracts.

The Executive Committee of the Burley Society was in session here yesterday and the day before and say that none of these things were true.

Out of a total of about thirty thousand hogheads sold the independent buyers less than two hundred and fifty were rejected on account of being faked.

This is a very small proportion, much less than one per cent. of the total. It has been re-appraised at a lower price and will be taken by the original purchasers.

Arrangement has been made to sell ten per cent. of the whole amount sold to the independent buyers at a price which will be paid for this sale would have to be cancelled. Arrangement has been made, we understand, for financial assistance and it will take time to pay for its allotment.

Some of the independent buyers are a little slow about receiving and paying for their tobacco, but this is all. The Burley Tobacco Society is all right and their sales are all right.—Winchester Democrat.

IN MEMORY.—

The death angel has again been in our midst and taken one of our greatest treasures, George W. Jones, little son of C. G. and L. A. Jones, who was born Oct. 7, 1901, and died March 31, 1909, of the smallpox.

George was a patient little sufferer. All that was in his mind was to get well and was slow, but to no avail.

Kind and loving friends and neighbors watched with the disinterested sympathy to the untimely end, which came all too soon.

Oh, how they will miss the little child who was so full of life and joy. But we must not dwell on the loss, but rather on the gain, and remember that Christ said: "Suffer little children to come unto me, and forbid them not, for of such is the kingdom of heaven." His little sister will sadly miss the close companionship of her little brother. Weep not for your beloved one, for he is not dead, but sleeping.

His little sister was laid to rest at the Atchison graveyard. He was aged two years, five months and twelve days. The bereaved family have the hearty sympathy of the community in their loss.

Death has robbed us of our treasure.

And the angels have him now. Where no pain or death or sorrow.

Come to cloud our darling's brow. The precious one from us has gone. A voice we loved is stilled. A place is vacant in our home That never can be filled.

ADA.

UP WITH THE TIMES.—

T. S. Shourt is always up with the times and is ever ready with the latest up-to-date things that can be bought. He handled for his undertaking business this spring a new silver-gray fender, rubber-tired; a new closed level glass, rubber-tired carriage which was bought with his horse free of cost; a new undertaker's buggy; a new undertaker's wagon. With all these new vehicles added to what he already used in his undertaking business he is as well fixed as the undertakers of most large cities, which the people of this county do appreciate very much, for nothing is too nice or too good to use when our loved ones are called to their rest.

STOOD FOR DIVORCE.—Mrs. Mary Miller Ayers is now at the home of her parents, Geo. E. Coleman and wife, at Mt. Sterling, and has brought her divorce against her husband, Col. Mott Ayers, of Falmouth, who was State Fire Marshal under Beckham's administration. Col. Ayers and his wife were expelled from the Olympian Springs and got married in the summer of 1904.

Rainy, snowy, sunshiny, windy, summery, springlike, describes the weather now.

RAILROAD-BOND TROUBLES.—

The old trouble about collecting a tax to put off the bonds issued by Carter and Boyd counties in 1853 in aid of the Elizabethtown, Lexington and Big Sandy railroad is acute again in those counties.

Elliott also being involved because of its territory originally belonging to Carter county, partly at least.

The bonds were sold, the road was never built, and the Federal Court gave judgment for the holders of the bonds on the ground that there were innocent purchasers.

It is quite likely that there was a swindle of the people of those counties and they now believing that at least are resisting the payment to their utmost.

J. W. Peck, a former newspaper man of Falmouth, has had the appointment as collector on the part of the bondholders for several years.

Bath county issued $150,000 in bonds for the same purpose and had to pay with accrued interest in the eighties. Some four hundred thousand dollars was Bath's payment.

There was a call by Peck on Gov. Wilson for troops to aid in the collection.

CHARGED WITH SEDUCTION.—

Floyd Alexander was arrested at Hagerstown, Ind., by Deputy Sheriff A. N. Crooks and brought here Friday.

Sheriff Crooks secured a requisition from the Governor of Kentucky, which was honored by the Governor of Indiana. Alexander was arrested on charge of seducing Flora Myers, the 16-year-old daughter of Ed Myers, of the Eastern part of the county. Alexander gave $500 bail and was released.

The father of the girl has also brought suit against Alexander for $5,000 damages.

NEW CASH STORE.—

Having secured part of the store-room occupied by S. P. Acheson (the old Rockwell store), the new cash store is now open.

The new store is well equipped with everything a cash store should have, hats and shoes; ladies' and children's.

Very strictly for cash and doing the work myself I can save you money in your purchases of this line. Any patronage given me will be duly appreciated.

L. D. BROTH.

AT REDUCED PRICES.—

I have already got in thirty-five new buggies since March 1, and have the new buggies I carried over from last fall. In order to make room for new stock to be shipped April 20 I will sell these fifteen buggies at $10 to $15 off of what they sold at last season. So if you want to save money come in and get one before they are gone. I have plenty of Batterman & Luth, Columbus Buggy Co. and Kauffman buggies to select from at the lowest prices, cash or credit. T. S. SHROUT.

CITY SCHOOL TAX.—

Owingsville City School tax is past due, and all owing this tax must call and pay to S. D. Thompson, Treasurer, at once.

Positively a six per cent. penalty will be added May 1st, and we will proceed to advertise and collect by law.

By order of School Board. S. D. THOMPSON, TREAS.

TWO COLORED CITIZENS DEAD.—

Two well-known old colored men of town died the past week: John Conner on Friday night; and Henry Vaughan on Saturday night. They were both well-beloved and had industrious men and had the respect of the community.

WHOLEY-BARBER.—John Wholey, son of Tolliver Wholey and wife of this town, and Miss Pannie J. Barber, daughter of James Landon Barber and wife of Naylor's Branch, were married Wednesday, March 24, by Elder Geo. W. Mills.

HE KNEW THE REASON.—

A rather pompous looking deacon in a certain city church was asked to take charge of a class of boys during the absence of the regular teacher. While endeavoring to impress upon the young men the importance of living a Christian life the following question was propounded:

"Why do you want me a Christian, boys?" The worthy dignitary asked, standing very erect and smiling down upon them.

"Because they don't know you," was the ready answer of a bright-eyed little boy, responding to the inquiry with a wit which was equally guileless and winning.

—Lippincott's Magazine.

SURPRISED THE MINISTER.—

The new minister was making his first call and was waiting in the drawing room for mamma, Little sister and her elder were holding an earnest confab in the hall.

"You don't," said the elder in tense, small tones.

"You just see," said little sister proudly. And she danced off into the drawing room, an angelic figure in daintiest white, her big blue eyes innocent and confiding.

When mamma appeared, just as little sister danced out of the drawing room door again she thought the expression of the minister seemed rather curious and that he seemed to be making an effort to control it; also his manner seemed embarrassed and his call was very brief. The little maiden was immediately summoned and asked what she had talked about with the new minister.

"Nothing much," she faltered. "I wasn't exactly what you said to him," demanded mamma.

"It wasn't anything much, just a little story Edith and I had made up to tell the minister's little girls. They were down there in the yard when you made us come up yesterday, and they told us such yarns, mamma. You never heard such things. So we made up a story to tell them, and he could be told to tell to the minister, and I did it."

"And what was it? Tell me what you said," she faltered.

"It wasn't anything—anything," the small voice faltered. "I just told him that my papa came home last night as drunk as he could be and kicked his mamma over and jumped up and down on her stomach. And, mamma, the minister did look so funny and a-prime!"

THE SPIRIT MOVED HIM.—

An old negro preacher approached a southern physician and offered a scrap of paper.

"Please, sah, read dat," he said.

The physician found it to be an advertisement for a medicine, and he read it with a skeptical expression.

"You haven't any malaria, uncle, none of it around here at all," he assured the old man.

"What dey dey dey it do want, Mars? Lemme," the other then asked curiously.

"It's pretty bad down on Cypress river," the physician said.

"Moving, Uncle Ned? Where are you going?" he asked.

"Mars Jeems," the old man said solemnly. "Ah done had a call. De spirit dose move me to go week in de Lord's vineyard on de banks ob Cypress river!"

—Harpers' Weekly.

A WARM RECEPTION.—

A member of Congress was going home late one night when he met a young man who was satisfactorily "loaded." The old fellow's call happened to know where the young man lived and kindly guided him home. The Congressman had no sooner pulled the bell than the door was thrown wide open and a tall, husky woman made her appearance. She never said a word, but grabbed the young man by the collar and shook him until she fairly loosened his teeth; then into the hall she took him and slammed the door.

The door was suddenly thrown open a second time, and his friend flew out of it as if thrown by a catapult. At the foot of the stairs he landed and the Congressman picked him up. Very much frightened and considerably sobered, the young man gasped:

"We don't live here; we moved last week."

WHY THEY DON'T SPEAK.—A young lady whose beauty is equal to her bluntness in conversation was visiting a house where other guests were assembled and the pedestrian eldest son of a rich manufacturer. The talk turned on matrimonial squabbles. Said the eligible bachelor: "I hold that the correct thing for the husband is to begin as he intends to go on. Say that the question was one of sense. Almost immediately I would show my intentions by lighting a cigar and setting the question forward."

"And I would knock the thing out of your mouth!" cried the imperious beauty.

"Do you know," rejoined the young man, "I don't think you would be there!"

DEATH IN VARIOUS FORMS.—

A crank came running into the office and said a man had swallowed a two-foot rule and died by inches. The editor started out at once to learn further particulars of the death and, meeting Dr. Martin, told him about the case. He said that was nothing; that he had a patient once who swallowed a thermometer and died by degrees. A couple of bystanders just then chipped in. One of them said it reminded him of a fellow in Kansas who swallowed a pistol and went off easy. The other one said he had a friend who took a quart of applejack and died in good spirits.—Exchange.
